

Dear FCC:

As a member of the amateur radio community, I would oppose any changes that would diminish the current band plan of amateur radio. I realize the need to spur economic growth is equally important. I am sure all decisions involving amateur radio spectrum will be tough. I am hopeful that the FCC views the amateur service as a resource and not a problematic group of people absorbing spectrum of commercial interest. Please include future plans that will allow the amateur radio service to flourish and enjoy this valuable resource.
